

Hated Leader Is Held

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Nov. 5 (UPI)—The United States today delivered slain President Ngo Dinh Diem's younger brother, Ngo Dinh Can, to the new revolutionary government for probable trial and execution.

Can, feared and hated master of Central Viet Nam, escaped house arrest today in Hue, 400 miles to the north, and sought asylum in the U. S. consulate. He had been under heavy guard to prevent mob violence by angry Buddhists in Hue.

It was not known here how he managed to escape but informed sources said he apparently entered the building seeking safety from the military leaders and the Buddhists who make up 85 per cent of Hue's population.

Salon sources said the decision to hand him over to the new Vietnamese government was made after discussions between U. S. and Vietnamese authorities in Hue, and between the new government and the U. S. embassy in Saigon.

Other major Viet Nam developments:

—Major Gen. Ton That Dinh, one of the leaders of the coup and new minister of security, wanted that communists are trying to sow disorder throughout the country to sabotage the revolution, and appealed to the population to "stay calm and vigilant."

—U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Mrs. Lodge were cheered by 300 Buddhists when they visited the Xa Loi Pagoda, Saigon's main Buddhist cathedral.

—Reaction to the news that former Vice President Nguyen Dinh Diem had been named premier was mixed. Americans appeared pleased because he had little power under Diem. Students, Buddhists and other Vietnamese were disappointed because they hoped the revolution would end all vestiges of the Diem regime.

Sheepmen Complain of U.S. Tariffs

PORTLAND, Nov. 5 (AP)—Lower tariffs on imports brought complaints from sheep and wool growers Monday.

Jan Wyckoff, Denver, said Australia and New Zealand were able to double their shipments of lambs to this country and took 25 per cent of the domestic market last year. He is market researcher for the American Sheep Producers Council.

Edwin E. Marsh, Salt Lake City, said higher quotas and tariffs were needed to control imports from Japan, Hong Kong and elsewhere. He is secretary-treasurer of the National Wool Growers association.

They spoke at the annual Oregon Wool Growers' association convention.

Nobel Prize Given to U.S. Woman

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 5 (AP)—An American scientist today became the first woman to win a Nobel prize in physics in 60 years. She will share the prize with a second U. S. scientist and a West German.

Winding up the 1963 Nobel awards, a West German scientist and one from Italy were named to share the prize in chemistry.

The Swedish Royal Academy of Science announced these winners of the physics and chemistry prizes, each worth $51,158.

Physicists:

Mrs. Maria Goeppert-Mayer, University of California, and J. Hans D. Jensen, Heidelberg, Germany, for their work in explaining the nature of the shell of the atom's nucleus. She is the first woman residing in America to win a Nobel physics prize and the first to be named Marie Curie of France.

Eugene Wigner, Princeton University, who helped to lay the groundwork for the present advanced study of nuclear physics. Wigner will get half the prize. Mrs. Goeppert-Mayer and Jensen will divide the other half.

Chemistry:

Prof. Rudi Ziegler, West Germany, and Prof. Giulio Natta, Italy, for their work in explaining the development of useful plastics.

The award money comes from a $10-million fund bequeathed by late Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite, who directed that the interest on the bequest be distributed among those who benefit mankind.

The formal award ceremony will be held Dec. 12 in Stockholm.

Dopey Mice Find Narcotic, Stage Riot

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5 (AP)—It seems that the mice which make their home in the hall of justice have become addicted to narcotics.

Peter J. Talmachoff, chief deputy of the criminal division, explained yesterday that the mice find their way into a closely guarded room where several hundred pounds of marijuana and other narcotics are held as evidence in pending cases.

"Those mice are addicts," he declared. "They run riot all night, then stagger off to their nest, leaving the floor littered with marijuana."

Jordan Eyes Coast Water Grab Plan

BOISE, Nov. 5 (AP)—Sen. Len B. Jordan, R., Ida., isn't taking seriously a proposal by California to tap Snake river in Idaho for irrigation purposes.

Jordan told a news conference here yesterday afternoon he doubted if anything would come of the proposal.

An official of the Los Angeles department of water and power urged construction last Friday of a 510-mile aqueduct to haul water from the Snake river at Twin Falls to Lake Mead.

Anyone could find the Snake river does not always have the surplus water claimed by the Los Angeles official, Jordan said.

"There are plenty of years when there is no surplus water spilling over the Miller dam near Twin Falls," Jordan said. "There isn't a surplus of water from the Snake and I doubt if anything comes from the California plan."

The Idaho senator said he was unaware of the Bonneville power administration's (BPA) proposal to raise wholesale firm power rates by 8 1/2 per cent and declined to comment on it.

But he said he did know of a surplus of beans and potatoes in Idaho this year and felt Idaho growers would have to "work this out on a free market since the overwhelmingly oppose controls."

Cholera Strikes

DACCA, Pakistan, Nov. 5 (AP)—About 600 persons have died from cholera in east Pakistan in the last four weeks, authorities said today. One health expert said there was not enough vaccine to control the disease. It was reported spreading fast.

Kiss and Make up Offer Is Extended China by Russians

MOSCOW, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Soviet Union is willing to give communist China another chance to renounce its "mistaken views" and end the Sino-Soviet dispute, Pravda said today.

The communist party newspaper said Peking's opposition to the partial nuclear test ban treaty "is a direct departure from Marxism-Leninism and can only bring harm to the international communist movement."

"It is not yet too late for the Chinese leaders to reconsider their mistaken views on the question of war and peace in order to regain the trust of the peoples of the world," it said.

The rest of the Pravda editorial, however, was a stiff attack on Chinese policy.

It accused the Chinese communists of "inadmissible accusations" in their opposition to the test ban, treaty and said China's "policy of racialism from a long way off."

Such a bid, it said, "is the purest demagoguery intended for the deception of the inhabitants of the countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America."

Burley Man Dies of Accident Injuries

BURLEY, Nov. 5—Further charges were pending Tuesday in the death of Jack F. Church, Burley farmer. Mr. Church died about 1 p.m. Monday in Cassia Memorial hospital of injuries received Friday night when his car collided with a 1963 pickup truck driven by Juan Ananda. The truck driver has been cited by State Patrolman Charles Peugh, investigating officer, with failure to stop at a stop sign. Patrolman Peugh said today further action will be up to the Cassia county prosecuting attorney, Richard K. Smith, who could not be reached Tuesday noon.

Mr. Church was driving a 1962 Volkswagen two and one-half miles east and two miles south of Burley at a rural intersection Friday night when the crash occurred. Ananda was treated and released from Cassia Memorial hospital.

Mr. Church had been listed in good condition at the hospital shortly before he died. His injuries included a fractured left ankle, wrist injuries, several broken ribs and face cuts.

Mr. Church's death raised Magio Valley's traffic fatality toll for the year to 40, compared to 51 at this time last year. His death was the eighth this year for Cassia county.

Miner Rescue Snagged by Obstruction

PEINE, Germany, Nov. 5 (AP)—Efforts to drive steel reinforcing pipe into a rescue shaft toward 11 men trapped in a flooded iron mine were snagged again by an obstruction today.

But a drill engineer said, "We'll reach them if we have to eat our way through."

The new delay came about an hour after the biggest mobile drill in Western Europe was brought to have completed reaming out rubble blocking the reinforcing operation for more than 15 hours.

Long Foreign Aid Debate Predicted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders today predicted a drawn out debate on the foreign aid bill, but indicated they hoped to block deep cuts in the appropriation.

The senate bill authorizes 42 billion dollars for one more year of economic, military and technical aid to friendly nations.

The house has passed a 35 billion dollar authorization — 1 billion dollars less than the pending senate version.

But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., predicted the final bill would be a "decent" authorization.

However, Mansfield told newsmen after a legislative meeting with President Kennedy, that the debate over the bill would be a "fairly long stage."

Questioned on civil rights, Speaker John W. McCormack said the President congratulated the house leadership, and through the Republican and Democratic members of the judiciary committee.

McCormack said the President felt the final passage of an effective bill was necessary because "this is a moral issue of the momentous gravity."

The 40th traffic death in Magic Valley occurred Nov. 4 as result of an accident in Cassia county.

Chief Calls Advisers on Block Tiff

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—President Kennedy today summoned Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other top advisers to a 4:15 p.m. (EST) meeting to discuss the Berlin situation.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said Llewellyn Thompson, the state department's adviser on Soviet affairs, would be among those meeting with Kennedy.

Salinger gave no details other than to say the conference was to "discuss the situation on the Berlin autobahn."

Kennedy has been keeping in close touch with the situation and earlier in the day talked by phone with Rusk and Thompson.

The announcement of this afternoon's meeting in advance seemed to indicate that Kennedy desired to stress his deep concern.

Hearing Held In Burley Power Issue

BURLEY, Nov. 5—Eleventh District Judge Lloyd Webb took under advisement Monday afternoon a lawsuit case brought by the Rural Electric company, Burley, against the city of Burley.

Judge Webb conducted a hearing Monday in the case and said Monday evening he would make no decision on the issue until after Tuesday's city election. The lawsuit involves an area north of Burley in Minidoka county being annexed into the city.

The company filed the suit a week ago charging the city with leaving loose "hot" wires at a sporting good store owned by W. W. Paulson, and for delivering power to an American Oil company service station, which Rural Electric claimed was closer to its power lines.

Attorney's arguments were heard Monday afternoon, when the hearing reconvened after one and one-half hours of testimony Monday morning.

Appearing on the stand Monday morning were Marvin McIntosh, superintendent of power for the city; John Brog, Rural Electric manager; and Joseph Holmes, line superintendent for the electric company.

Rural Electric company's charges are based on a bill passed in the last session of legislature which states that in the event two existing company lines are within 1,000 feet of a new customer, the line closest to the new customer will be used to service them.

The lawsuit states Rural Electric's poles were 24 feet, 2 inches from the service station and that the city's poles were 110 feet away.

The suit also charges that lines of the company were unhooked and left lying loose on Sept. 27 by the city, which allegedly hooked up to the spinning goods store.

Herman Bedke, Burley, attorney for Burley, said in his argument Monday afternoon the city's lines were closest to Paulson's store and the service station. Bedke also stated city crews (See POWER, Page 2)

URGES MARTYRDOM

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 5 (AP)—Polish Catholic priest, Stefan Cardinal Wysynski, in a strong challenge to his nation's communist government, has told priests to become martyrs rather than serve political ends that conflict with their religion.

He was speaking at a meeting of the Polish hierarchy in Rome.

Cardinal Wysynski, 62, is a native of Poland and has served in various capacities in the Polish hierarchy. He was appointed cardinal in 1958.

He is currently the archbishop of Lublin, one of the poorest of Poland's 14 voivodeships.

He is also a member of the Holy See's synod of bishops.

He is known for his strong opposition to communism and his support for the Polish people's desire for freedom.

Russ Still Block Yank Convoy, Pass British, French

BERLIN, Nov. 5 (UPI)—The Russians blocked a U. S. army convoy with armored cars and more than 100 gun-toting soldiers in a dispute over Berlin access rights for the second day today but permitted French and British convoys to pass a Soviet checkpoint. The Berlin-bound U. S. convoy of 41 men in 12 vehicles has been held at the Marienborn checkpoint 110 miles west of Berlin on the east-west German border since 9 a.m. (3 a.m. EST) yesterday because the Americans refused a Soviet demand that they leave their vehicles to be counted.

Idaho Cooperative Council Meets Here

Ninety delegates from throughout Idaho registered in Twin Falls Tuesday for the Idaho Cooperative council's 32nd annual convention at the Rogerson hotel. The convention opened at 8 a.m. Tuesday with a breakfast, followed by a film entitled "Credit Where Credit Is Due," a modern production on U. S. agriculture. Walter Jacoby, director of youth education, American Institute of Cooperation, was Tuesday morning's speaker. During the luncheon Tuesday the Twin Falls chapter of the Future Farmers of America, directed by high school teacher John Lawrence, put off a short skit concerning the idea and history of the cooperative and how the cooperatives can be beneficial to businesses, as well as farmers. FFA members who put on the skit are Grant Smith, Gary Askew, Mike Quessell and Bill Groves.

Tuesday afternoon's guest speaker was Dr. Irvin W. Rust, membership relations branch, farmers cooperative service of the U. S. department of agriculture, Washington, D. C. He spoke on "Cooperative Management and Member Relations — 1964 Model."

In his speech, Dr. Rust said, "Cooperative members' education sources usually are one or more of the following three—meetings, printed material and audio-visual aids."

Dr. Rust then summed up his speech by saying, "The challenge to your cooperative today is to find ways to operate effectively in today's coldly efficient marketplace while maintaining the fundamental virtues which set cooperatives apart—and to instill in members an awareness of those virtues."

The Idaho youth delegation to last summer's American Institute of Cooperation, with Albert Jagels in charge, will give a discussion on this summer's activities, followed by a business meeting at 4:15 and a banquet at 7 p.m. The guest speaker at the banquet will be Glen Heltz, director of cooperative bank services, farm credit administration. He will speak on "Is Your Cooperative Big Enough for the Job?"

The convention delegates will tour Mountain Home air force base Wednesday. The convention will be adjourned there after lunch at the base.

"The decision will mean expansion of the present IRS tabulating center at Ogden from about 450 permanent employees to about 1,000," the senators and the director said. At peak periods, employment will go up from 1,100 to about 2,200, they estimated.

Italy Now Faces New Problems

ROME, Nov. 5 (AP)—The stop-gap cabinet of Premier Giovanni Leone resigned en masse today, plunging this North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) country back into the political crisis that has plagued it for most of the year.

The cabinet, formed after general elections last April, voted to resign in a 24-minute session, ending its 137 days in office. The development had been expected.

Leone, immediately went to present his resignation to President Antonio Segni, a Christian Democrat like himself.

Unless they call new elections, the Christian Democrats appeared to have only two possible courses of action: To form an other-center-left coalition or to set up a new government based on right-wing support.

Either could lead to serious trouble with the communists—the second largest political party in the country—waiting in the wings to cash in. The communists also might stand to gain by elections. In April, they picked up another million votes.

Pipeline Blasted by Terrorists

MARACAIBO, Venezuela, Nov. 5 (AP)—Pro-communist terrorists blew up a vital American-owned oil pipeline for the eighth time in 18 months yesterday, setting off a major oil fire.

The Armed Forces of National Liberation, strong supporters of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, were suspected of dynamiting the pipeline in the barren area about 100 miles east of here.

Hundreds of fire fighters of the Creole Petroleum corporation, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, rushed to the scene and brought the fire under control last night.

Repairs were begun today on the line which carries 300,000 barrels of oil a day from the U.S. pumping station near the rich Lake Maracaibo oilfields.

Hungarian Reds Honor Martyrs

Throughout the capital, the broadcast said, wreaths were laid at the graves of fallen soldiers and civilians and commemorative tablets in all districts of the city were honored.

Two inches of snow were reported Monday at the Rock Creek ranger station in the south hills, in a general storm which included rain and some hail throughout the valley. It snowed throughout Monday night in the Wood River valley and two inches were reported on the level ground at Halley Tuesday noon. It still was spitting snow and heavily overcast at Halley Tuesday noon. At Sawtooth valley, on the Salmon river side of Canyon, snow was reported. Much of the snow Monday melted under rain later in the day, and a rural mail carrier reported after completing his route to Stanley Monday that it stormed all day in the Salmon river area.

Winds of up to 30 miles an hour drove a heavy rainstorm across most of Magic Valley Monday afternoon. The storm, lasting about an hour, hit about 4 p.m. and reached the Burley-Rupert area about 5 p.m. A duplex resident who was in

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY
The current series of Pacific storm systems have brought the first measurable snows to mountain elevations during the past 24 hours. Snow has been reported around the 5,000 to 6,000 foot levels at 8 a.m. today one inch of snow remained on the ground in the Fairfield area, with greater depths reported to the north of Camas prairie. In agricultural valleys rainfall was general with amounts ranging from around .10 of an inch in the Burley-Rupert area to about .50 of an inch at Boise, Gooding and Malad. Other reporting stations recorded rainfall amounts around one quarter of an inch during the past 24 hours.

From the latest weather charts we see that the storm system responsible for this precipitation has moved eastward into Wyoming and Montana, but following closely behind is another oceanic disturbance that is moving onto the Oregon coast and promises to bring additional precipitation to agricultural valleys during the next 24 to 30 hours. Temperatures will remain mild at night due to the heavy cloud cover and will range in the upper 20s to upper 30s. Daytime temperatures will lower, however, from the upper 40s and 50s recorded yesterday to maximums holding generally in the 40s today and tomorrow.

Yesterday the storm passage was accompanied by a great variety of weather, strong shifting winds, thunderstorms with lightning and small hail and moderate rain.
This week will continue wet as the upper air flow from the Pacific will permit oceanic storms to move rapidly eastward into and across the Intermountain region at regular intervals. Minor but sufficient cooling of the upper atmosphere is lowering temperatures to the point where some snow could be mixed with rain even at lower valley locations during the next two days.

This change to more November-like weather will hasten stock movement to lower ranges or pastures and will cause delays in beet harvesting and late potato digging.

Old Reactor Is Finally Shut Down

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Nov. 5 (AP)—The atomic energy commission shut down on Monday its oldest operating atomic reactor.

At 2:13 p. m., EST, the reactor, or nuclear furnace, ceased operation—20 years, 11 hours and 19 minutes after it began functioning.

Dr. Richard Doan, one of the pioneers in the nation's atomic energy program, pushed a button that signaled the end of the graphite reactor's controlled reaction. AEC Chairman G. T. Seaborg and a host of dignitaries looked on.

Doan was the first research director at Oak Ridge national laboratory and was one of the little band of scientists and engineers present at 5 a. m., Nov. 4, 1943, when the reactor went "critical" or began operating.

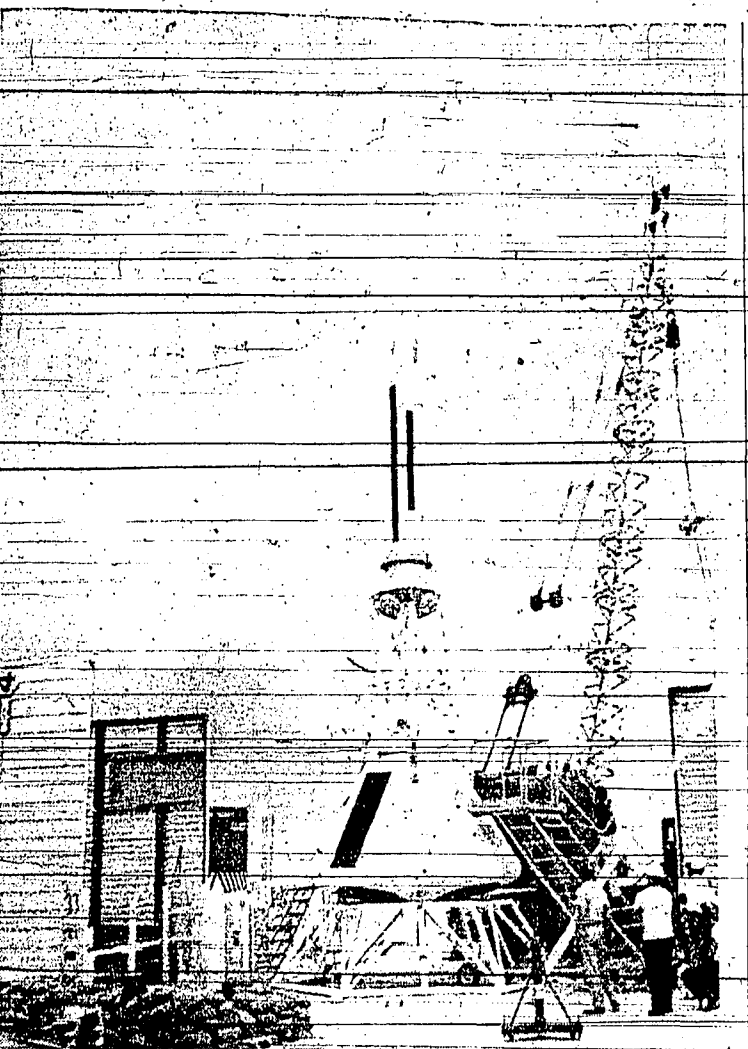

The graphite reactor served as a pilot plant for the production of plutonium during World War II.

WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—Beautiful German girls or not, I do not buy this town as Gomorrah on the Potomac. Despite its sophisticated pretenses, Washington still smacks more of the Paris of Mr. Frodo's London.

It takes a certain style to carry off real sinfulness in the international brand, and Washington doesn't have it. By this I do not mean there are not occasional or even frequent instances involving illicit liaisons between males and females, but these relationships have a small-town, behind-the-barn quality in this "capital of the world."

TAKE BOY OUT OF COUNTRY—Someone, possibly Tully, once said there was a significant difference between New York and Washington. That is that when a Kansan moves to New York he becomes a New Yorker, but when he moves to Washington he remains a Kansan. This has become, if you will, a kind of safety valve, because it is difficult to be too sporting when you are looking over your shoulder lest you be discovered by Aunt Emma.

There is a lot of talk in cocktail lounges and congressional committee rooms about the German girl, Ellen Rometsch, being seen at the Quorum Club, a restful watering place on Capitol Hill, for tired congressmen and lobbyists. This is regarded as significant because the club is one of the interests of Bobby Baker, the resigned Democratic majority secretary whose business interests are under congressional investigation.

A RISK OF SORTS—Ellen, the wife of a West German sergeant formerly stationed here, was sent home as a "security risk" by the Bonn government because of her way of life. Translated, this means Ellen was seen with an occasional U.S. government figure. Since she was born in East Germany, the gossips naturally see her as a possible beautiful spy.

Possibly the investigators will discover that Ellen did indeed wheedle information from a passel of bedazzled males during the martinis hour, but I doubt it. Capitol Hill, by the nature of its duties, is not privy to the more important secrets of the town. Mostly the conversation of those who frequent the Quorum Club and other booze joints on the hill consists of what congressional staffer is currently seeing what congressional secretary (female).

SIN NOT UNKNOWN—These trysts go on, folks. Girls in Washington outnumber boys by a big margin, and consequently there just aren't enough single males to go around. But they do not occur in glittering salons presided over by exquisite chateaux and populated with elegant diplomats, but in the assorted efficiency and one-bedroom apartments of government girls. In such situations there just isn't time for powered golf carts.

Nevertheless, I believe Washington is enjoying preoccupied with watching the newspapers for new names. Washington long has suffered the gibes of Londoners and Parisians who regard it as an overgrown cow town, and privately Washingtonians wish they could belong to the international set. They will never make it, of course, because Washington is looking, but gosh, all fishhooks, it can dream, can't it?

Views of Others

SPACE POLITICS
James E. Webb, boss of the national aeronautics and space administration, in a recent interview accused congressional Republicans of playing politics with the space program.

"Five junior Republicans on the space committee are doing all they can to make this partisan program," Webb complained to a reporter for the Chicago Daily News. "This is a most disturbing thing. We have been operating a bipartisan program. But for the first time last month, 125 Republicans followed a political line dictated by the Republican policy committee to vote against the space program."

"In my opinion, they are following a political line to try to make the President's program look foolish," Webb said. "As Eisenhower called it."

Well, in our opinion there are plenty of reasons other than political ones why members of congress legitimately can look askance at JFK's 40 billion dollar drive to put Americans on the moon before 1970. Even the President's own general accounting office has been critical of waste and inefficiency in NASA's procurement policies, faults which hardly can be avoided in any governmental program where the No. 1 consideration is haste. It's time for congress to start asking: What's our hurry?

But it may be more than pure coincidence that the number Mr. Webb mentioned, 125, was exactly the number of votes cast in the house Thursday in a successful motion to forbid NASA to spend any of its fiscal 1964 appropriation on a joint moon project with the Russians, as proposed by President Kennedy in a recent U.N. speech. This amendment was proposed by Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, Washington state Republican, and its adoption with the votes of Republicans and southern Democrats looks like pure anti-administration politics.

After all, Congressman Pelly does not even know what he is forbidding NASA to do. The President's proposal was couched in the most general terms, so that the nature and extent of any lunar landing cooperation would be determined by diplomatic negotiation should the Russians accept. Judging from their attitude in the past, it would seem highly unlikely the Russians would agree to anything more than a minor exchange of scientific information. As matters stand they have not even replied to the President's suggestion, so the entire discussion may be pointless.

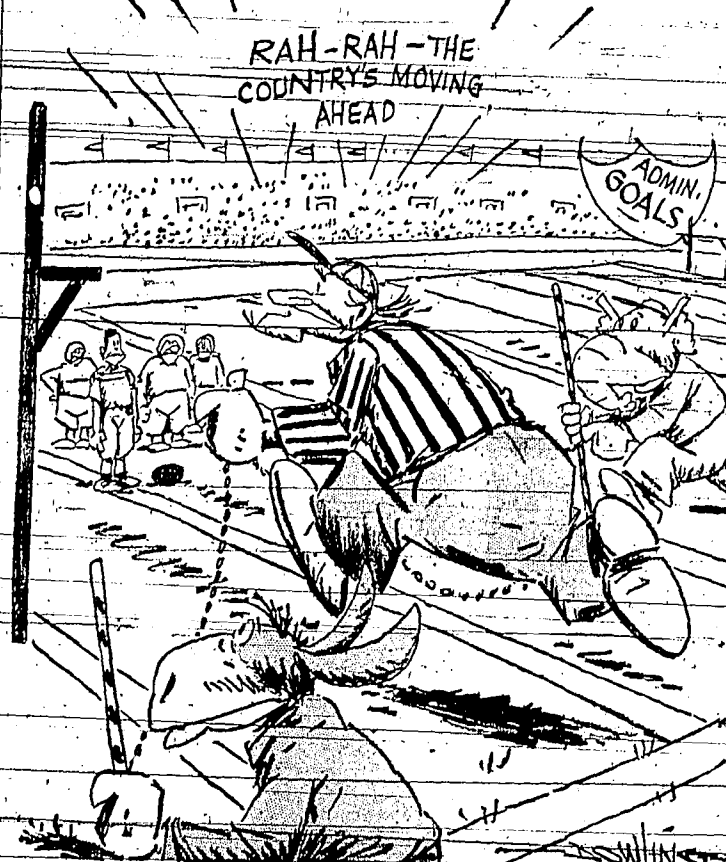

But the President made his proposal in his constitutional role as the nation's chief foreign policy spokesman. Under the doctrine of separation of powers, Representative Pelly and his congressional supporters do not yet belong in the act. If politics properly stop at the water's edge, the same should apply to the edge of space. The Oregonian.

GIVING AND TAKING
The Fort Hall business council has wisely voted to request an earlier resolution banning the Indian reservation to outside hunting and fishing.

And just as wisely, it has moved to restrict "treasure hunting" in areas outside the reservation in Idaho by members of the Fort Hall Indian tribe.

Attached to the rescinding of the "no hunt" resolution, was an appeal to the bureau of Indian Affairs to allow the tribe to hunt on the reservation. The tribe's request is not new, but before they voted whether such a permit can be granted and its cost to the individual hunter. At a time when the Indian is forced to cast around for ways of improving a sometimes desperate livelihood, the move appears as a sound one. But it is especially absurd, if the tribe tempts the outside hunting which has caused the tribe such poor public relations with whites in choice hunting and fishing areas of the state.

The Indians may have come to realize that the Pelly-Bridger treaty needs adjustment to modern times, that the Indians could not continue to take their game and fish off-reservation without the inevitable diminishing returns in game numbers and while their growing resentment. ## POT SHOTS

TWO DAYS ENOUGH?
Dear Pot Shots:
I give up. So far as I'm concerned, the pheasant season is over. We went out the opening day and did alright, and the second day things weren't too bad, but since then we've drawn a perfect blank in our family.

Sure, there are plenty of pheasants, but no one ever hunted pheasants like these before. Whenever a hunter steps into a field, the birds either fly or run out the opposite side. And it's not uncommon to see a brush 70 or 80 yards ahead of you.

I'm not sure just what happened, but we have a different breed of pheasants now. If pheasants generally are conceded to have college degrees, these birds have had post-graduate courses.

Under the circumstances, I think a two-day season is plenty. No one can find any birds after that anyway.

WHO KNOWS?
Dear Pot Shots:
We were discussing the old Model T Ford the other night and most of us could remember backing them up hills at times, but no one was right sure why.

Could any of your readers with better memories shed a little light on the reason? Some of the ideas expressed in our little argument was that the Model T engine couldn't get gas from the tank unless it was almost full while going uphill; the reverse gear was more powerful; the wheels pulled better than they pushed.

Dear Pot Shots:
The thrill of Halloween was unexcelled by the enjoyment I received from the many children who visited my home.

They were so very polite I don't think we need worry too much about the future generation.

Poor Man's Plato

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Nov. 5—How do you live here, nice as it is to visit? Inquired the coxy critic. "Believe me, this place is for the birds," and I do mean pigeons. People no longer have a status here.

Well, she was a pretty girl, and I supposed she meant what she said.

But—oh, dullness!—how out of every-where can you be?

There are several kinds of people who knock New York.

There are the butter and egg men who arrive with a fist waving green card, and they won't take any chicken feathers from anybody.

There are those from Chicago who say their museums have more places to park chewing gum than any we have here.

And there are the high-class women from San Francisco who complain they get their tennis shoes dirty riding in the subway.

"This is an attractive place to four in a way—and on a group basis," they sometimes remark, "but how and why would I want to live here individually?"

Actually, Manhattan has many attractions, and getting along isn't too difficult.

The chief idea is that you have to walk a little faster than you do in other cities, and realize that it doesn't make any difference where you're going—just so you hurry.

The second thing is to remember that you are a visitor rather than a participant in life. The great aim is noninvolvement. It might be your luck, for example, to gaze across an apartment courtyard and see a stranger strangling his wife.

Interrupt him? Not for the world. That might be all right in Dublin, but here you either look the other way, or break out in mild applause.

One who becomes accustomed to the faster tempo of this city is never quite the same again.

There are calmer spirits who say that "the New York pace" is a device for getting attention rather than distance.

But that isn't so. There is a pace of possibility here—an electric sense of anything can happen, a gift of hope, a quest of unreasonable demand, a faith that you will soon meet Aladdin and he will rub his lamp and all you longed for will come true.

That's what makes happiness for many here—living on bread crumbs while forecasting cake.

Excitement is a nutrition in New York.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDT, M.D.
Q—My doctor had me get an electrocardiogram and then he said I had neurocirculatory asthenia. Is this the same as soldier's heart? What is the cause and what is the treatment?

A—Neurocirculatory asthenia goes under many names including soldier's heart, effort syndrome, vasomotor instability, nervous heart and cardiac neurosis.

The cause is a chronic state of anxiety that frequently stems from being brought up as a child in an atmosphere of apprehension. It usually starts in adolescence and is chronic. The victim complains of tingling and shortness of breath after mild exertion. Palpitation (acute awareness of the normal beating of the heart) is usually present.

Physical examination may reveal a functional murmur. This is a heart murmur that is not due to a structural change in the heart resulting from an organic disease. The electrocardiogram may show a slight deviation from the normal pattern, but this is without significance. The X-ray of the heart shows no abnormalities. Because of the palpitation, the victim worries a great deal about the possibility of heart disease.

Those who accept the reassurances of their physician that the condition is not serious and in no way constitutes a threat to life, make a satisfactory adjustment and are able to carry on a normal occupational and social life.

Q—I am taking Ariseproc for asthma. Can I stop taking it without any harmful effects?

A—Triamcinolone (Aristocort) is one of the adrenal cortical hormones. It is safer than many of the other drugs of this class but prolonged use will cause rounding of the face, growth of hair on the face and obesity. Softening of the bones and peptic ulcer may also occur. If too large a dose is used, just as with other steroid hormones, it may contemplate stopping this drug you must taper off gradually.

Q—I recently read an article that said aspirin causes internal bleeding and may lead to ulcers and anemia. Since aspirin has been a mainstay in our medicine cabinet for years this worries me. What is your opinion?

A—It has long been known that aspirin irritates the stomach lining. For this reason it should be avoided by anyone who has a peptic ulcer. Along with this irritation it may cause bleeding, especially if the tablets are slow to disintegrate. Manufacturers now make their tablets so easy to disintegrate that they fall apart on the back of the tongue.

Many people find that this irritates the throat so you can't swallow. When aspirin causes a loss of blood from the stomach repeatedly over several months, anemia may result.

A recent study indicates that buffered aspirin, although no more effective as a pain killer, will not, when taken in the usual doses, cause bleeding in the stomach.

BARRY GOLDWATER

Once again the New Frontier has made it clear that it considers Bolivia an example which it hopes all of Latin America will follow.

President Kennedy was quoted to this effect when he greeted Bolivian President Victor Paz Estenssoro, on Oct. 22. Further, he emphasized his attitude by giving the Bolivian president a red carpet welcome with full military honors.

If Mr. Kennedy's words can Barry Goldwater be taken at face value and if Bolivia really is his idea of an example to be followed by all Latin America, then it would seem clear that the administration is totally bankrupt in its hemispheric policy.

The truth is that Bolivia is not an example of democracy. It is an example of lightly-coated despotism. It is not an example of economic progress. It has swallowed more of our aid money per capita than any other Latin nation in recent years. Yet, its economy remains stagnant, its people poorly served, their opportunities remain highly restricted, and dependence upon foreign aid for budgetary support remains virtually complete.

I suggest that Bolivia is not an example of revolution in the tradition of freedom. It is, indeed, an example of traditional revolutionary violence and tyranny.

Three years after the Paz Estenssoro regime came to power, former Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles was quoted as saying that the government had "turned Bolivia into an immense concentration camp" and that "torture and assassinations were daily occurrences."

Another estimate of the current Bolivian regime came just recently from Dr. William Stokes, one of this country's most distinguished academic experts in the field of Latin American affairs.

Here is what his report had to say about the Paz Estenssoro government:

"The president and his advisers evidenced from the very beginning a passionate intolerance of the opposition. They arrested a former foreign minister, a former minister of economic affairs, a former chief justice of the supreme court, leaders of the major political parties and many other prominent, even distinguished, figures."

"Secret police organized under a bureau known as political control ferreted out the opposition, using unconstitutional methods and resorted to ferocity those employed by the Nazi and communist tyrannies. The jails were literally filled with thousands of political prisoners, and President Paz Estenssoro created concentration or 'work' camps to accommodate the overflow."

Dr. Stokes emphasized that the basic principles and policies of the revolutionary government in Bolivia have not changed in any truly significant manner.

It is important to remember that we have undertaken in a number of ways to withdraw American support from Latin regimes which we consider to be opposed to the rights of the people and to free society. In some cases we have withdrawn support simply because the regime came to power by violent means—whether or not that regime subsequently dedicated itself to seeking stable, orderly and representative government.

In the case of Bolivia we have a government that not only came to power in violence, but has sustained itself in tyranny while bankrupting the future of its people. And we not only support it, but we promote it as an example for all the countries of Latin America.

A complete and searching study of this entire situation is surely needed. If the present administration insists on holding Bolivia forth as an example for all Latin America then the facts of the case must be widely known and wisely evaluated. What I have learned so far leads me to believe that aid to Bolivia should be withdrawn.

It is an example of the wrong way, not the right way, for Latin America.

How do you stand, sir?

Pietro Nenni is a bald, hook-nosed man in spectacles who affects a worker's beret instead of the bourgeois hat.

More than 50 of his 60 years have been spent in the turbulent arena of Italian politics, most of them in opposition.

In his career he has been a close friend and then bitter foe of Benito Mussolini, a member of three post-war governments.

Under the late Alcide De Gasperi and then a leader of the opposition, an admirer of Josef Stalin and winner of the Stalin peace prize—an award which he returned in disillusionment after the Russians crushed the revolt in Hungary.

As Italy's socialists met to decide the terms upon which they would enter into a new center-left government and Nenni gripped for what he believed would be his last battle, he looked sadly back upon his own and his party's history.

"If I had to say in one sentence what struck me most in my long life as a fighter and a militant," he told the party congress, "it would say it is the drama of the wasted opportunities, of the things that should be done . . . and were not."

Since Hungary, Nenni has sought to lead his party away from close ties with the communists and toward collaboration with Italy's Christian Democrats who, though fragmented, remain the country's largest political party.

Last week was to be the climax of this effort.

Oswald Jacoby, Bridge

HOW TO SCORE "CHICAGO" BRIDGE
There is nothing new to learn in order to play "Chicago" or four-deal bridge. A game consists of four deals. On the first, neither side is vulnerable. On the second and third deals the dealer's side is vulnerable but the opponents are not. Both sides are vulnerable on the last deal. Thus, vulnerability is determined by the deal, not by who has won a game or frames. When you score a game you get a 300-point bonus. If you are not vulnerable and a 600-point bonus if vulnerable. If you make four games you get four game bonuses. Slam bonuses are the same as in rubber bridge. If you make four slams you get four slam bonuses.

There is no bonus for a part score made on the first three hands unless it adds to a previous part score and gives you game. If you happen to make a part score on the fourth hand you get a 100-point bonus to make up for the fact that the game is over and you get no chance to use that part score towards a later game.

Both North and South overbid today's hand and had West led any suit but clubs South would have been set. As it was, dummy's eight of clubs held the first trick. South went right after trumps and wound up losing one trump and one trick each in hearts and diamonds.

BOISE, Nov. 5 (AP)—Idaho's general fund Monday showed a black balance for the first time since the beginning of the current biennium, July 1. State treasurer Marjorie Moon said cash on hand Oct. 31 totaled $1,694,626. Outstanding warrants on the same date totaled $1,494,159 leaving a balance of $200,467. Miss Moon said, however, that she is still holding $12,750,000 worth of tax anticipation notes with $7,750,000 due to be redeemed in December. The notes are issued by the state against idle funds to finance day-to-day governmental operations during periods of slack tax revenue income or heavy expenditures. In the event there is not sufficient cash on hand to redeem the notes due in December, a new series will be issued. Miss Moon said also that additional borrowing will probably be necessary in December to cover transfers to the public school and welfare funds.

The steelworkers contract expired last week. The mining company offered the nearly 400 miners 9 1/2 cents an hour pay boost. WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Science believes it may finally have a toe-hold on one of man's most elusive and potent foes.

Government scientists have developed the first experimental vaccine against one of the platoon of viruses believed to cause the sniffles type of common cold. Successful testing of the vaccine was done on volunteer prisoners at the federal reformatory at Leavenworth.

Dr. Robert Huebner of the national institutes of health called it an encouraging first step in the quest for a "holoquin" vaccine that could be turned against all the various cold viruses.

But such a weapon may be years in the making, if it can be developed at all, Huebner said.

Dying Cost Added to Price Index

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—The government is going to start counting the cost of dying as part of the cost of living next year.

"There's a lot of interest in this," said assistant commissioner Arnold Chase of the bureau of labor statistics in confirming that funeral costs will be added to food, rent, clothing and other selected items in the bureau's consumer price index starting next January.

Actually, Chase said, the bureau made the decision nearly a year ago "before all this furor came along."

The furor he referred to is comment and controversy stirred by two recent books, "The American Way of Death" and "The High Cost of Dying" and a number of other publications, plus television treatment.

The first funeral cost figures will come out in February, based on January's cost of dying.

The bureau will tell them what it costs to die—including funeral service, casket and all the things that usually go with the service," Chase said.

Accused Girl Abductor's Car Found

POCATELLO, Nov. 5 (AP)—Bannock county deputies have identified the remains of a burned-out car as one belonging to Frank Du Mont, 48, Boise, wanted for the abduction and beating last week of a Pocatello girl.

Bannock County Sheriff Henry Parker said yesterday the car's identification number had been removed, but a serial number on the car's motor showed it was registered to Du Mont.

The car was found roughly 100 yards from the spot where 14-year-old Vickie Jo Quinn's body was discovered last year in a shallow grave.

Parker said a stock of groceries, a sleeping bag and a small stove were found in the trunk near the auto. He said the driver of the auto, presumed to be Du Mont, became stuck in the sand and heat from the spinning wheels may have ignited the auto.

Du Mont has been charged by Pocatello police with aggravated assault and battery for allegedly beating up and beating with his fists last Wednesday Ann Lucinda Sahlgren.

Mrs. Jenise Crystal, Pocatello, who said she witnessed the attack, identified Du Mont from a photograph, police said.

Pseudorca Learns Fast, Jumps High

PORTUGUESE BEND, Calif., Nov. 5 (AP)—What has large sharp teeth, can jump maybe 15 feet high and is a very fast learner? A pseudorca, of course.

For those unfamiliar with the lore of deep-sea mammals, a pseudorca is a whale and Marine land oceanarium has one.

Named Swiftly, the 11-foot-3-inch specimen was captured Oct. 10 off Marineland and already is showing more learning ability than the pilot whales used in the oceanarium's sea circus.

Marineland officials say the pseudorca is an extremely unusual species in the Western hemisphere. Swiftly is believed to be the first one caught alive in the open ocean.

She's already leaping up to nine feet for food and is expected to reach 15 any day, now.

Gem Council Director Is Chosen

BOISE, Nov. 5 (AP)—Myron Schlechte, Denver, a Colorado state research assistant will take over as director of Idaho's newly created legislative council on Dec. 1.

Schlechte was chosen for the job by council members at their one-day session in Boise yesterday. He was one of four applicants interviewed.

The new director's salary was set at $9,000 per year. It will be paid out of the council's $50,000 appropriation for the next two years.

In creating the council, the 1963 legislature set a $10,000 limit on the salary to be paid the director and specified that the remaining funds be used to pay expenses of members and employ clerical help.

Schlechte, 33, is currently employed as an assistant to the supervisor of the research and statistics section of the Colorado department of public welfare. He is married and has one child.

The council was warned earlier in the day by one of its members that "indeed can kill us."

Rep. William Lanting, R., Twin Falls, house majority leader, chided members for deferring action on a proposal by Gov. Robert E. Smylie that the state acquire office space in the new Bank of Idaho building.

"We are something like the umpire at a ball game who can't make a decision, and that's bad," Lanting told the council.

Smylie's recommendation followed that of a special subcommittee headed by Rep. Robert W. Green, R., Ada, that the state rent about 14,000 square feet in the Bank of Idaho building at a rental of $65,000 per year.

The new offices would be used by agencies currently housed in quarters adjacent to the legislative chambers. Those offices will be converted to legislative use under a remodeling and construction program enacted by the 1963 legislature.

The measure appropriated $350,000 from the permanent building fund program and acquisition of a site for a new state office building and to plan the remodeling.

It also directed the governor, with the concurrence of the legislative council, to acquire office space needed by the state pending completion of the program.

Council members argued that Smylie failed to specify what offices would be moved and refused to concur in the recommendation until further information is made available.

A motion was adopted deferring further action on the matter until the council's next meeting.

The council adopted a resolution recommending that the permanent building fund advisory council retain Kruger and company, a Santa Fe, N. M., architectural firm, to draw up plans for remodeling the legislative quarters.

Ceremony Is Conducted at Area Church

SHOSHONE, Nov. 5 (AP)—An official groundbreaking ceremony for the new educational and fellowship building for the local Methodist church was held Sunday after morning worship services.

The building contract, awarded to Park and Slimon contractors, includes the main education area of 49 by 50 feet for four classrooms, cloak and restrooms, a basement area for a fellowship room, kitchen and heating plant area.

The new structure will be attached on the west side of the present church building with remodeling of the church included in the plans.

The ceremony, attended by more than 80 persons, included congregational singing, the call to worship, prayers, collect and responsive readings both from the Bible and pertaining to the event of the day.

All participated in the actual ground-breaking, which took place through operation of a walking plow. The crowd followed leaders who drew the plow with two long ropes.

They are architect Ivan Stone, Jerome, Marvin Pearson, chairman of the board; Elmer Terry, chairman of the building committee; Mrs. Marvin Pearson, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service; Evan Knight, representing the Sunday school; Joe Shaw, president of the Methodist Youth fellowship, and the Rev. Woodrow Harris, pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Harris was assisted by Charles Borden in preparing a sandcast drawing of the ground floor plans of the new building in the grass so those attending could picture the building.

Baker Vacancy Now Is Filled

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—The senate has officially named a successor to Robert G. Baker as secretary to the senate democratic majority.

By voice vote and without word of dissent Monday, it promoted Francis R. Valeo to the post vacant since Baker resigned Oct. 7 under allegations he used the job to promote his business dealings.

Valeo, a former employee of the library of congress, has been administrative assistant to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. The senate has opened an investigation into Baker's dealings.

Power Test Center Is Dedicated

THE DALLES, Ore., Nov. 5 (AP)—The federal government dedicated today a two million dollar high-voltage research station that may become important in the cold-war.

This country is in a race with Russia for development of energy. Rep. Al Ullman, D., Ore., said in a speech prepared for delivery at the dedication of the center to test ways of sending power over long lines.

He said Russia had a potential electrical output far greater than this country's.

"We must take full advantage of every ounce of our energy potential. This is the precise reason the federal government has put two million dollars into the test center we dedicate today," he said.

The center will experiment with ways to transmit direct current over long distances. It is believed direct current can carry more power over longer distances than now possible in the transmission of alternating current.

The center is near one of the huge dams in the federal government's Bonneville Power administration circuit.

ZIP Code Is Just Rehearsal

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 5 (AP)—The ZIP code plan which the postoffice department inaugurated last July is merely a giant rehearsal for the public and will not be in use for at least two years, according to Postmaster Otto Buescher, Columbia, Mo.

The postoffice does not have the equipment to automate the sorting of mail and will not have it for another two years or so, Buescher said.

He explained: "The public is being prepared. People are slow in getting used to it, so the postoffice is starting now. It wants them to be ready when it is ready to go into full-scale automation."

Fast Repair Job Saves Atlas ICBM

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE

BASE, Calif., Nov. 5 (AP)—Two air force missilemen had a special interest in the latest Atlas ICBM launch at Vandenberg air force base.

Officials say their quick action last month probably saved the giant missile from destruction on the pad.

The air force described the incident this way:

As the missile was being serviced, a work platform struck it and punctured the skin.

Missilemen Edward Jackowich and Lawrence McClain rushed to the scene at the 21-foot level of the 75-foot missile and stuffed a field jacket into the hole to prevent escape of nitrogen gas.

The hole was later welded and the missile launched Monday.

INTRODUCING THE DEPENDABLES FOR '64

We have designs to get you in our power

Our engineers are a wily group of guys who spend most of their time dreaming up ways to win your approval. Take the Dodge Polara 500. You'd be hard-pressed to find a car that's got more going for you. Deeply padded, contour-formed bucket seats. All-vinyl upholstery. Sil-t-sill carpeting. Padded dash. Contour console. And lots of other trimmings. But that's only the half of it.

Perhaps our approach to power will further illustrate the point.

With the Polara 500 you aren't baked in on a certain engine. You can choose from a standard 318 cu. in. V8 up to a street-version of our wallowing, all-out 426 cu. in. Ramcharger V8. Compromise? Nope. We just feel that a freedom of choice is the surest road to your approval.

That's our way of doing business—giving you tools of car and tools of satisfaction at a price that's hard to quarrel with.

Your Dodge Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the point.

Woman Writer Describes Perfect Purse

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (UPI)—Breathes there a woman who hasn't had a broken nail, a moment of frustration or a spell of embarrassment—over hunting for an unfindable item in her pocketbook?

It's there that charge plate, lipstick or safety pin. But the object suddenly becomes an unobtainable—especially when needed in a hurry.

The fault's not so much with mislaid items as it is with the designers of purses.

This nation which hopes to put a man on the moon, has come up with ZIP codes to speed the pony express, developed electric toothbrushes and calculators even to write music has yet to produce a genius capable of designing an efficient purse.

Perhaps part of the fault stems from the fact that no one ever has developed a national norm for purse sizes. Too often, it's brain-straining to tell where a purse leaves off and a tote bag begins.

The possibility of efficient design bogs down when one must consider coming up with the blueprint for a bag that holds—in addition to a purse's normal odds and ends—raincoats, sweaters, walking shoes and lunch.

Courageous inventive sorts willing to take on the challenge of a purse that stores everything within fingertip reach must agree that the ideal purse doesn't serve as a tote bag.

Females who want to can carry an extra bag for the wearables. Such things, logic dictates, belong someplace besides in a lady's purse.

The ideal purse needs: Numerous compartments, each opened by the touch of a button on a control panel within fingertip reach. The master panel would have buttons operating openings on storage cubicles containing small change, folding money, cosmetics—alpha-betized, buttons, safety pins, hat pins, new stamps, cleansing tissue, book of phone numbers and addresses.

Easily reachable envelope-sized compartments for checkbook, gloves, letters, pictures of loved ones.

Easily touchable outside compartments for magazines, newspapers, unopened mail.

A zipper outer pocket for keys only. It would help if the pocket had two sections: one for house keys and one for keys to the car.

WHAT THIS MEANS TO THE NEW-CAR BUYER. This around-the-clock Durability Run was the most rugged test ever faced by a new car. These Comets proved their stamina and durability beyond question. And the same skin and engineering excellence that made Comets' performance possible are yours in every '64 Comet. For this is a hot and hefty new kind of Comet—newly styled, newly designed, newly engineered. It's bigger, bolder looking... with a solid, big-car ride. Try one—at your Mercury dealer's.

These Comets drove day and night for 100,000 miles. Average speed of the lead car—over 105 mph—includes time for refueling and maintenance.

During this challenging event, these Comets rewrote the record book, set over 100 world records. Many were once held by famous foreign cars.

The ideal purse, further, ought to be made of some light material that doesn't tax a lady's spine when she's carrying it.

It needs also to be water and stain proof. Otherwise, she won't get too much wear out of it.

The strap or handle of the thing should have attached some kind of retractable hanging device—making it easy for the damsel to hang the thing on a luncheon table instead of wrestling with it on her lap.

Identically, the perfect purse also needs an inner purse capable of being jammed with the basic necessities and detached when the occasion demands that a female carry a little purse.

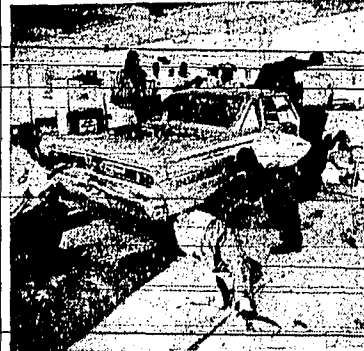

Give us such a purse and temptress—male and female—will improve all around.

Boost Ego With Everyday Good Grooming List

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise-Beauty Editor

Somewhere someone once said that if you take care of the little things the big things will take care of themselves. The problem, though, is to decide what is little and what is big.

For teenagers everything seems mountainous, especially the task of selecting the right clothes, cosmetics and hairdos to look like a star or models and you see one has a mouth that is too big. Another has a skinny neck. And so it goes.

These women have learned to play down these faults and highlight their good points. So can you. You probably worry most about your hair and complexion. Begin with these.

Special care of the hair includes not just knowing how to shampoo but how often. The old wives' tale that frequent shampoo strip your hair of needed oils isn't true. Select the proper shampoo for your hair and use it at least once a week or twice if you have an oily scalp. Brush your hair daily to stimulate circulation and spread the natural oils.

Many an SOS from your troubled skin could be answered by a cleaner, soap, dermatologists point out. When washing your face, use a shampoo, brush and scrub vigorously around the hairline, frequent soap-and-water facials also will ward off the build-up of oil-glands-that-can irritate and compound the acne problem so many teen-agers face. But, don't stop at the top. Scrub your knuckles and nails to remove imbedded grime. Keep your nails and cuticles neat. If you use nail polish, you will find the pastels compliment your hands more than bloody reds, for example, and polish only looks well if your hands are clean.

Your hair, face and hands are only three areas that need constant attention.

The simple truth is that good grooming is a big top-to-toe key to greater confidence. And through grooming the little things add up to a big thing.

Miss Blackburn Is Married to Stanley Moore

The First Christian church, Twin Falls, was the scene for the candlelight ceremony uniting in marriage Janice I. Blackburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Blackburn, Twin Falls, and Stanley L. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Moore, Buhl, Oct. 28.

The Rev. Donald L. Hoffman performed the double ring ceremony before a background setting of basket arrangements of white gladioli with large blue chrysanthemums accented with blue ribbon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown enhanced with an all-ruffled lace flounce studded with iridescent sequins topped by a pearl sole overskirt caught by two self roses. Lily point sleeves and a flowing chapel train highlighted the dress. The scalloped lace scooped neckline was enhanced by a star diamond pendant necklace with matching earrings. Her modified elbow-length veil of French illusion net was held in place by a seed pearl tiara.

The bride carried a compact bouquet of white butterfly nosegay surrounding white imported grapes accented with white French illusion net and white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Jim Kistler, Jerome, was maid of honor. She was attired in a pale blue brocade taffeta sheath dress with a full blue nylon organza overskirt.

Bridesmaids were Marlene Eggleston, Buhl, cousin of the bride, and Nanette Light, Twin Falls. They wore dresses identical to that of the matron of honor. Each carried a crescent bouquet of blue and white gladioli flanked by blue and white satin leaves and French illusion net.

Candlelighters were Mrs. Bruce Fuller, Buhl, and Linda Bobler, Twin Falls. They wore dresses identical to that of the bridesmaids and wore wristlets of white carnations.

Nancy Kramer was flower girl. She wore a full skirted version of the bridesmaids' dresses. She carried a white basket accented with blue ribbon streamers and net filled with white butterfly rose petals.

Best man was Dale Blackburn, brother of the bride. Ushers were Frank James, Buhl, and Jim Kistler, Jerome. The ringbearer, Frankie Walker, carried the rings on a heart-shaped white satin pillow with accents of blue, made by Mrs. Henry Eggleston, Buhl, aunt of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a bronze sculptured brocade sheath dress with moss green accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a gold wool pleated dress with brown and green accessories.

Preparing and cooking the festive turkey is no longer the chore it was in grandmother's day.

We have oven-ready birds with hardly a pin-feather to be plucked, packaged stuffing that is really good and new, shorter methods of trussing and roasting the bird.

Also, many modern cooks save time by baking the stuffing separately and making the giblet gravy ahead of time.

Trussing: It's no longer necessary to bind turkey with string or lace the front opening. Modern turkeys are compact and well shaped. Fold wings "akimbo" style and bring wing tips onto the back. Push drumsticks under band of skin at tail, if present. This will hold legs down, and keep stuffing in, without losing roasting time shallow roasting.

To make "tent" tear off a sheet of foil 5 to 10 inches longer than turkey. Crease lengthwise through center. Place over bird. Press foil gently at drumsticks to anchor it. The use of a foil tent during the latter part of roasting prevents overbrowning. Keeps turkey moist and golden-brown. Differences in shape and tenderness of individual birds may necessitate increasing or decreasing cooking time slightly.

Brewing Official Offers to Buy Baltimore Club

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5 (AP)—Jerold Hoffberger, head of a brewing company which sponsors broadcasts and telecasts of the Baltimore Orioles, said Monday he has offered to buy out the two other largest stockholders in the American league baseball team. "I would like to own the Baltimore Orioles," Hoffberger said. "At present, neither of the two other principal stockholders wants to sell." The others are Zanyl Krieger, club treasurer, and Joseph A. W. Iglehart, chairman of the board of directors. It is estimated the trio controls 155,000 of the 182,000 shares in the Orioles.

Sports

FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

Pocatello high school officials look for a crowd of between five and seven thousand at the Veterans' day clash between Highland and Pocatello high schools.

And every member of the Southern Idaho conference is firmly hoping their team will win a nice in-between 6,000.

The reason is simple. With the added cost of transporting teams to Southern Idaho conference games, the Pocatello schools must have a big game to keep the budget in the black.

With two teams in the conference, it means Pocatello's travel expense has doubled and should run around $3,500 for conference games alone. This figure wouldn't be too great if the home gate also doubled. But with a pair of winless teams, football has been a losing proposition. There is little hope of Pocatello having much better success in basketball, although the teams should win a couple. Graduation took everything off last year's solid club.

When Twin Falls played at Highland last week, a check of the crowd indicated the school would be lucky to clear much more than $100 after paying the officials.

The alternative for the Pocatello schools is not bleak by any means. The newly formed Eastern Idaho conference, which picks up Minico, Burley, Idaho Falls, Bonneville and Blackfoot, would like nothing better than having both Pocatello schools in the new alignment. In fact, the new league needs the Pocatello schools to challenge the SIC in prestige.

But athletic director Byron Toole states Pocatello has no intention of leaving the SIC unless forced to by finances. He says there have been a few meetings on the matter but so far all discussion has ended favorably for the SIC.

The catch remains that Veterans' day game. If the crowd reaches the anticipated goal, that one game should go quite a ways in paying for all conference travel.

Although Pocatello's losing woes haven't helped during the season, the same thing appears working toward a successful rivalry opener. With both teams all losing, the outcome remains as much in doubt as the Borah Boise clash where it is all winning. Both and Boise are bound to have the biggest gate under the circumstances, but this other fact helps Pocatello.

Concerning the new Eastern Idaho league, we are informed the conference appears headed for a five-team alignment rather than the original eight. Rigby, a proposed member, has stated it will not join while Madison of Rexburg has said it wouldn't join if Rigby stayed away.

This new conference is slated to meet in Pocatello shortly after the season ends to firm up schedules for basketball and football in 1964-65.

Wade Reigns As Top Bear Quarterback

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—After years of waiting in the wings, Bill Wade finally has emerged as the No. 1 quarterback of a pennant contender with the Chicago Bears.

Under Coach George Halas' ball control system, Wade goes for the sure first down rather than the gamble on a TD.

Most important, Wade is No. 1. Only in emergencies does Halas dip into the bench to use Rudy Bukich.

"I want to play all the time," Wade said. "I am very much against any system of alternating quarterbacks. You should decide who it is and stick with it. I am thankful that I am allowed to play."

Only one team ever won a championship with alternating quarterbacks. That was Los Angeles when they had Bob Waterfield and Norm Van Brocklin. "I am of the opinion that the responsibility belongs to the quarterback. If things go wrong, I'll take the blame. I want to be on the field. If I'm on the bench, I get blamed anyhow."

Wade rates the current Bears the best team he ever played on. He calls Mike Ditka the "best inside end I've ever seen in pro football."

"We have learned our lesson to take each game as it comes," said Wade. "You have to calculate into the way the game is going. In this league is good enough to beat any other team on a given day. We found that out in San Francisco."

IN METS-CARDS TRADE, veteran pitcher Roger Craig, right, was traded for George Altman, plus Bill Wakefield, a minor league pitcher. Craig won five games and lost 22 for the Mets in 1963. (AP wirephoto)

Mets Trade Craig to St. Louis For Altman and Bill Wakefield

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Encouraged by their success in the trading mart last year, the St. Louis Cardinals pulled off another player deal Monday—their first in less than 12 months—acquiring pitcher Roger Craig from the New York Mets in exchange for outfielder George Altman and minor league pitcher Bill Wakefield. The trade, first of any significance since the close of the baseball season, was expected to benefit both clubs. St. Louis, with the best hitting club in the National league, was beaten for the pennant by the Los Angeles Dodgers largely because of a pitching shortage. Craig is expected to fill that void, both as a starter and reliever. He demonstrated he could do both adequately last year, despite his 5-22 won and lost record with the last place Mets.

New York was woefully weak on attack last season. Altman is in position to provide some of the much-needed punch if he can return to the form that made him one of the National league's most respected batters before the Cards acquired him from the Chicago Cubs last winter.

The 30-year-old left-handed slugger batted only .274 in 135 games with St. Louis in 1963. But he hit 303 and 318 as a Cub in 1961 and '62 respectively, driving in 170 runs with 49 homers during that time.

Wakefield, a 22-year-old hopeful, who attends Stanford university during the off-season, was 4-10 in Tulsa and Atlanta last season but he comes well recommended.

Both Bing Devine, general manager of the Cardinals and George Weiss, president of the Mets, expressed satisfaction with the deal.

"We wanted Craig for some time," said Devine. "We tried to trade for him last June but couldn't come to an agreement. We believe he'll fit snugly into our pitching plans. We know he can start as well as relieve. Usually when you trade for a pitcher, he can do one or the other so this is a plus for us."

Weiss recognizes the Mets' greatest of their many needs is more power.

"Actually, Altman didn't have that bad a year with the Cardinals," Weiss said. "It's just that he realized so much was expected and when he got off to a slow start, he began pressing. He should be more relaxed next year. He's proved he is a good hitter."

Both club executives indicated they would do more dealing, especially during the inter-league swap period, Nov. 20 through Dec. 15.

"We're still looking to improve our pitching," said Devine. "And we want some more right-handed hitting strength in the outfield."

The Mets, of course, can help everywhere. Weiss has left five spots open in the Mets' roster and he hopes to pick up several players at the major league draft in San Diego next month.

Craig, baseball's hard luck pitcher the past two years, was delighted at landing with a pennant contender.

"I respect the front office for dealing me to a good club," he said from his home in Lakewood, Calif. "The Cards have the best hitting club in the league and should be a contender for years."

"I know I'd be traded," the veteran pitcher said when contacted by telephone at his home in Lakewood, Calif. "I was praying it wouldn't be to another second division club. I felt I suffered enough."

"I was relieved and gratified when Murphy told me where I was going. I thanked him and I want to thank the Mets for dealing me to a good club. The Cardinals have the best hitting team in the league and should be a contender for many years."

Andros said the Vandalis, seeking their first win this season on the road, would hold heavy contact practices Tuesday and Wednesday before tapering off.

Southern Cal to Meet Stanford Without Starting Quarterback

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5 (AP)—Quarterback star Pete Beathard will miss Southern California's football game with Stanford here Saturday. Coach John McKay said Monday an absence bound to hamper the Trojans' offense. Beathard sustained a painful leg injury in the bruising and losing game with Washington. McKay said he couldn't hazard a guess on how long his pass-run-option-play-artist would be sidelined.

He didn't even know when he hurt it at Seattle," McKay told the weekly luncheon guests of the Football Writers association. As for the loss to the Huskies, which probably dealt Southern Cal out of the Big Six conference Rose bowl race, McKay said:

"They were a better football team than we were. I hate to say it, but they were."

"We still have a pretty good team and I expect a fine game with Stanford."

Craig Fertig, a junior, will replace Beathard. And behind him, McKay revealed with some surprise, will be Troy Winslow, currently a member of the red-shirt squad, a sophomore.

Tom Lupo will be the No. 2 quarterback on defense.

McKay firmly denied that the muddy field at Seattle was the factor in his team's defeat. But he did admit it hampered some of his speed runners such as Willie Brown.

"Yes," the Huskies were tired up, but so were our kids," McKay declared.

of Stanford he commented: "They have a good football team. They beat Notre Dame, which we were unable to do."

Stanford's veteran sports publicists, Don Liebenow, in clipped fashion, said: "We have a good football team. We have a strong line and a good backfield."

Privately, Liebenow confessed that so little was thought of the Indians' sophomore quarterback surprise, Dick Berg, he didn't even have a photograph of the youngster until a short time ago.

Coach Bill Barnes of UCLA said the Bruins were beaten by a better California team. But two fumbles led to a quick 30 points and cost his team dearly, he noted.

"In the Air Force we are meeting another fine team," Barnes said. UCLA meets the Falcons at Colorado Springs Saturday.

In a telephone interview from Minneapolis, Harland Sware of the Los Angeles Rams said he hoped Jon Arnett would return to action at Chicago Sunday after the Bears. But Dick Bass, who did not play in the losing effort against Minnesota last Sunday which Arnett also missed, probably will remain inactive.

The writers named Damon Dams of USC as the big college player of the week and Ron Battle of Los Angeles State as the small college star.

Game Tonight

Robert Stuart and O'Leary junior high school freshmen clubs will meet at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday at a time-out field in the season finale for both teams.

O'Leary is seeking a sweep of the first-year intra-city rivalry, its eighth straight winning last week 10-6.

Bout Nears

DENVER, Nov. 4 (AP)—It appears definite now a heavy-weight Charles (Sonny) Liston is about to give gabby Cassius Clay a crack at his crown.

The decks were cleared Monday for the two Negro fighters to sign contracts Tuesday for a bout, probably in February at a site to be named later. The signing will be at the Hilton Hotel probably at 2 p.m. MST.

Clay was reported heading this way in a caravan consisting of an expensive new automobile and a 38-passenger bus decorated with signs reading: "I'm the greatest" and "Cassius Clay, next heavyweight champion."

Charger Rote Gains Passing Leadership

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Tobin Rote, veteran quarterback of the San Diego Chargers, replaced Buffalo's Jack Kemp as the passing leader in the American Football league in the latest statistical roundup.

Rote, 35-year-old former National Football league and Canadian star, has connected with 62 per cent of his passes for 13 touchdowns and 1,494 yards.

Ratings on a complicated system involving efficiency in six different departments that include interceptions, yards, touchdowns, completion percentage, interception percentage and yardage per attempt.

Paul Lowe, San Diego, passed Clem Daniels, Oakland, in the passing department by picking up 79 yards on 18 runs in the 33-7 rout of the New York Jets.

Lowe has 581 yards, just one more than Daniels.

Bill Miller, Buffalo, remained in first place among the past catchers with 48 for 649 yards and Gino Cappelletti, Boston, widened his scoring lead with nine points against Houston for a total of 81. George Blair, San Diego, is next with 49 points.

Unbeaten, Untied Texas Maintains Tight Grip As Nation's No. 1 Grid Team

By The Associated Press
Unbeaten, untied Texas is maintaining its tight grip as the nation's No. 1 college football team despite fears by coach Darrell Royal that the Longhorns may be battling "a complex about those zeroes in the second half." Texas again drew an overwhelming vote Monday for the top spot in The Associated Press weekly poll, but Royal appeared apprehensive as he spoke in Austin, Tex., about Saturday's game against Baylor.

Royal Seeks Answer To Baylor and Trull

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 5 (AP)—Texas Coach Darrell Royal, more nervous than usual, made it a day of rest for his nationally top-ranked Longhorns Monday but extra work for the coaching staff. Obviously restless as he tapped his foot on the floor and twisted a ring on his finger Royal had a head full of questions. The big one was what to do about Baylor's great passing combination—quarterback Don Trull and flanker Larry Elkins. Another was how to shake Texas' inability to score in the second half.

Chargers Hike Offense Lead in Loop

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Sid Gillman's San Diego Chargers widened their total offense lead in the American Football League over the week-end by rolling by 528 yards in their 53-7 romp over the New York Jets.

Tobin Rote accounted for 369 yards for his passes and Paul Lowe, Keith Lincoln and company added the rest. As a result of this outburst the Chargers have an impressive average of 392 yards per game for their first eight games.

Only the Buffalo Bills are within shouting distance of San Diego and they're not too close. Buffalo has averaged 303 yards in their third place average 315.2 yards.

Buffalo displaced Houston as the passing leader with a 238.8 yard average and San Diego remained on top in the running department, with 160.3 yards per game.

The Boston Patriots who showed plenty of offense in slugging Houston 45-3, also helped their defensive record. The Pats have yielded an average of 244.7 yards per game, almost 50 yards less than second-place Oakland.

Boston also has the best rushing defense average, 89.2 yards per game. Oakland's pass defense is tops with an average yield of 108.3 yards.

While Texas battles Baylor, Illinois will continue its campaign for the Big Ten conference crown against Michigan. Mississippi takes on a breather in Tampa, Navy meets Maryland and Auburn tackles Mississippi State.

Oklahoma faces Iowa State. Pittsburgh goes against Notre Dame. Michigan State has a date with Purdue and Ohio State plays Penn State. The top ten teams with first place votes in parentheses, season records and points on a 40-0-0-0 scale.

1. Texas 45
2. Illinois 4
3. Mississippi 1
4. Navy 1
5. Auburn 2
6. Oklahoma 5
7. Alabama 6
8. Pittsburgh 8
9. Michigan State 10

PROMOTED TO NO. 1
LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 5 (AP)—James Ellis was promoted to No. 1 quarterback Monday as Texas Tech began preparations for its game with Kansas State here Saturday.

DOUBTFUL STARTER
NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Rex Brown, offensive tackle of the New York Giants, is a doubtful starter for Sunday's game with Philadelphia because of a badly bruised right knee.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 5 (AP)—Navy's football team is steaming along at a clip destined to land it in a post-season bowl. But academy officials aren't ready yet to talk bowl games with anybody.

It's the same old story: Navy has to finish a slam-bang season with a victory over Army in order to even consider it seriously. Capt. William S. Busick, director of athletics, spelled out the academy's bowl policy again Monday in response to queries about whether Navy is receiving any feelers.

"We haven't had any bids from anybody," Capt. Busick said. "If there are bowls interested in us—and we assume some are since they have had scouts at our games—they know our policy and are not approaching us."

He outlined this policy as follows: 1. Navy must have a "representative" excellent season. 2. The players must want to go and face giving up part of their Christmas holiday leave and possibly some time from their studies.

3. Officials at the navy department and the Naval Academy must feel it is in the interest of the Navy for them to play. 4. The team has to beat Army. All of the other conditions hang on No. 4, and Army is not going to give it answer until Nov. 30. Therefore, there's not much bowl talk going on at the naval academy.

Hagen Is Named Lineman of Week
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5 (AP)—The University of Washington skinner who sailed through the air to block a University of Southern California punt has been named for the Big Six football league of the week.

Skier Kolt Hagen also plays tight guard on the Washington grid team that trounced USC 22-7 to gain the inside track to the conference championship and Rose Bowl.

Washington recovered the punt Hagen blocked for a touchdown, putting the Huskies in front.

VANDAL YEARLINGS Joe McCollum, handing off, and Tim Lavens, both members of the 1962 Twin Falls high school football team, are playing important roles in the University of Idaho's fresh schedule. McCollum is starting wingback while Lavens is captain of the club and offensive end. The fresh so far have defeated University of Washington freshmen 32-18 and bowed to Columbia Basin Junior college 28-0.

Grid Officials Seek Three Rule Changes

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Cliff Montgomery, captain of Columbia's 1933 Rose bowl champions, said Monday that Eastern college football officials are preparing to recommend that the goal posts be restored to the goal line, side line coaching be legalized and the substitution rule be changed.

Montgomery, an executive in the international division of a publishing company, keeps his hand in football by officiating on week-ends. He is a field judge.

"For the first time, as far as I know, the officials are getting together to recommend some changes in the rules," Montgomery told the members of the New York football writers association. "We have six chapters in the East and we think it is about time that we made some suggestions, too."

"We are just getting our ideas together but there seems to be a strong feeling that the goal posts should be back on the goal lines. Those new goose neck posts eliminate the possibility of injury. We also think the substitution rule should be changed a little so that they can get one man in there at any time."

"In my opinion they should delete or forget the rule about coaching from the sidelines or change the rule to permit it."

Montgomery said the officials from the six Eastern chapters in New York, Syracuse, Boston, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Philadelphia would draw recommendations to be forwarded to Asa Bushnell, Commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic conference. Bushnell, in turn, would be asked to pass them on to the rules committee of the NCAA for consideration at its meeting in January.

Buff Donnell, Columbia coach, backed up Montgomery's suggestion that the officials have a hand in changing the rules.

"I think the officials should be heard," said Donnell. "People directly involved seem to have too little influence in the rules. That is not right as far as I am concerned. I hope that something good will come out of it."

Tiger Arrives For Title Fight
NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Midweight champion Dick Tiger arrived from Nigeria Monday looking fit and almost ready for defense of his title against Joey Giardello of Philadelphia at Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 7.

"We didn't expect him for another couple of days," said manager Jersey Jones. "His visa was delayed in transit to Lagos. He didn't tell us anything. He just showed up."

"He looks real good," said Jones. "We'll go to Atlantic City Thursday for the formal signing and then Dick will resume training. He'll do the final three weeks in Atlantic City."

Rigger Returns To Grid Drills
NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 5 (AP)—Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson said Monday sophomore quarterback Mike Rigger, who directed the Sooners in their first two games this season, has returned to practice and could see some action against Iowa State here Saturday.

Rigger underwent surgery on his right elbow Oct. 14. Wilkinson said the cast was removed Sunday and Rigger would resume normal noncontact drills.

Wilkinson said whether Rigger can play Saturday depends on how he progresses in practice this week.

Hoopie Sees Texas Loss - Again, Delights in High School Slate

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Egad! The signs again point to the nation's No. 1 team losing this week, but I must admit to a fraction of apprehension in picking Baylor to beat Texas. Twice this season as I have informed you, everything was directly pointing to Texas' first loss. Twice I predicted that way, and twice Texas proved me wrong. A man of less self determination might easily be awed by two such experiences, but not Major Hoople, Texas will lose, Harrumph!

This week's slate is filled with a number of questionable games. I fear luck will triumph over skill in such a ballot and for that reason I will not greatly surprise me if I don't lead all entries this week.

Feeling somewhat vicious, I have included five traditional prep games. My main purpose for this is to make it just that much harder for you to decide. But to help clarify the situation let me pass along the inside information I have been able to glean.

Since the Twin Falls Bruins played both clubs, I had my assistant contact the Bruin coaching staff. This is how they feel. Head coach Paul Ostyn—"Borah by one touchdown." Defensive coach and principal scout Merl Eden—"Boise will win by one touchdown." Now that I have clarified that point for you let me say make up your own minds on Bull-Jerome and Minico-Burley.

Since these games fall on Veterans' day, the release of winners may be a day late. The Times-News will try to have them in Tuesday afternoon per usual. But despite the fact that no games on the ballot are until Saturday, the deadline remains at noon Friday and there is no deviation from this.

Now to award the money. Chad Browning, Twin Falls, became a double winner for the season when he swivel-kipped his way through a rough field and picked 18 out of last week's 20 selections. No one else was able to match this percentage and Browning receives the $10.

Second place went to T. W. Thomas, Twin Falls, and the third prize of $2.50 goes to Tom McVey, who did such a marvelous job of trimming his ballot out the Times-News.

The honorable mention list includes Vao L. Schofield, Rupert; Kenneth Polkman, Jerome; Dennis Maier, Hazelton; John Bradley, Gooding; and Dana Ostyn, Ed Gilbert and Larry Hunter, all Twin Falls.

Coach Says Cal Can Run With Anyone
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5 (AP)—California can run with the football against any team, and that goes for the Big Six conference leading Washington Huskies. That was Coach Bill Barnes' impression following the 25-0 walloping his UCLA Bruins took from California Saturday night. California hosts the Huskies next Saturday as UCLA prepares for the Air Force at Colorado Springs.

California led 7-0 at the half, the third period was scoreless and then the Bears erupted for 18 points on two touchdowns, a field goal and a safety in the final quarter.

Coach Mary Levy of the Bears, registering his first victory in four years over UCLA, and the school's first since 1958 over the Bruins refused to single out the performance of any of his men but football writers named half-back Tom Blanchfield as the outstanding back.

The Bruins' big end, Mei Profit, was voted the lineman of the contest.

Levy watched the Washington-Southern California game on television Saturday afternoon. "But I really didn't see much of it," he added. "I kept walking in and out of the room concentrating on the game that night."

"For us to play a good game we have to be emotionally ready," said UCLA Coach Bill Barnes. "We were just down. I can't say why."

UCLA committed three costly fumbles. One set up a touchdown, another a field goal and the third—a fumble on the California eight—eliminated any possibility of a score.

Cattlemen At Gem Meet Eye Problems

LEWISTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—A crash program of advertising in behalf of the industry and higher tariffs to combat foreign imports were to be discussed at the annual convention of the Idaho State Cattlemen's association.

John Chohlis, Los Angeles, editor of Western Livestock Journal, told delegates that marketing is the cattlemen's number one problem.

He said individual producers must take an interest in what happens to the cattle after they reach terminal markets in order to learn what the public really wants in the way of beef.

He also urged growers to conquer their fear of supply management. "Even though some governmental involvement may be necessary," he said, "the creation of new markets may be the only route open to stave off dangerous inroads being made in the cattle market by foreign competitors."

Chohlis suggested that the industry wide advertising program be undertaken paid for by a one cent per pound tax on imported cattle.

C. W. McMillan, Denver, executive vice president of the American Cattlemen's association, said increasing imports of foreign beef are becoming a dangerous threat to the American cattle industry.

He said that imports of beef and live cattle amounted to 11 per cent of all the beef consumed in the United States last year and that the import figure is running 22 per cent ahead in the first eight months of 1963.

McMillan said stockmen aren't against reasonable foreign competition, but are asking for tariff quota protection so they can remain ready to meet the nation's growing need for beef.

Civil Rights Bill Is Topic For Chamber

HAILEY, Nov. 5 — There are many phases of the civil rights bill now before congress which would vitally affect every citizen in the country, V. K. Japane, Hailey attorney, stated at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday noon at the Star Cafe.

He said the goal of the civil rights legislation may be desirable, but the means suggested to put it into effect are "undemocratic and tyrannical."

In Hoffman, chamber president, urged members to attend the annual Yellowstone-Sun Valley law meeting Thursday at Dubois. Wayne Clark Gant, is president of the group.

An invitation was received for the fourth district Wildlife Federation meeting to be held at 10 a.m. Nov. 16 in Rupert. The Mindoka Bowmen's association will be hosts.

A letter from West Coast airlines was circulated, which tabulated passengers boarding planes here. The figures showed 1,935 as the total passengers leaving from Hailey airport in 1962 and a total of 1,081 to date this year.

Oliver Adams and Orin Shirts were named to work on the city Christmas decorations.

Jack Englin, Keith Bird, Robert Jackson and Paul Jones were asked to work with Secretary Eugene Killebrew on the membership committee.

Dr. A. E. Richards reported the fund drive for the Rolanr Art Club was showing satisfactory progress.

Keith Bird reported he and his committee have not yet contacted the city council in regard to house trailers parking within the city limits.

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—The steel industry is riding high at the moment but keeping a wary eye on signs of a slowdown in construction and the odds on making recent steel price increases stick.

Steel output is back to the level of mid-July before the summer slump really started, largely as an afterthought to a strike.

Steel plant Sam Dawson expansion and modernization plans indicate confidence is high in the industry and, even more, so is determination to cut costs from using obsolete equipment.

And profits of steel companies have bounced back nicely from the 1962 slump.

Most of this year's boosts in prices—covering some two-thirds of total shipments—have held stoutly enough so far. Steel mills report their customers have accepted them as inevitable in times of rising production and increased labor costs.

And the government hasn't reacted as it did a year ago when a steel-price increase was quickly rescinded after administration.

Consumer durable goods also have been selling well, and consumers still seem in a buying mood.

Construction also has been pushing higher—until just recently. Some steel executives feel that the trend there may determine their own prospects.

Census bureau's figures show construction spending down a little in October from September and August. But it is still running at an annual rate of around 66.5 billion dollars.

Steelmen hope it stays that way. But such construction materials as concrete, glass, aluminum and plastics still hold a much larger share of the market steel once dominated than steel officials like.

And that puts a cautious damper on some of the enthusiasm that recent steel-profit gains generated.

YOUR Times News AGAIN PRESENTS A GLORIOUS WINTER VACATION TREAT—THIS TIME TO MEXICO, the land of infinite variety... With a Program featuring: Scenic Wonder... culture and history... Recreation Unlimited...

As Hosts for the Times-News, Gus and Betty Kelker invite you to join the congenial group for an ideal break-away from Idaho's chilly February.

As co-hosts representing Magic Carpet Travels Joe and Mary Salisbury point out the variety in this program that is sure to please everyone.

★ JET TRAVEL Salt Lake to Los Angeles and on to Mexico City. Return by prop-jet from Mexico City in one day.

★ PYRAMIDS of the Sun and Moon and other ruins at Teotihuacan will fascinate you with the ancient cultures of the Aztec, Tltec and Maya Indians.

★ THE COUNTRYSIDE is always beautiful and you'll see a good part of it as we drive to the pyramids; then to Taxco and Acapulco, winding down from the highlands to tropical sea level, on well-paved highway.

★ ACAPULCO on its beautiful tropical bay, boasts the world's best swimming, deep-sea fishing in the Pacific, and Caleta Hotel where you'll sleep in quaint luxury, dine in gourmet delight, and be entertained in Mexican gaiety!

★ BULLFIGHTS will be in full season and YOU will be a part of this gala event, with seats on the shady side of the Arena and our Mexican host to explain everything. At luncheon, earlier in the day, you'll meet a real Torero.

★ TAXCO, unspoiled, picturesque Colonial Town, where you'll stay at the famous Hotel de la Borda; may be your best bargain spot for silver items, textiles and other Mexican crafts.

★ MEXICO CITY With its many contrasts would take months to really know, but our program takes in the highlights of this 7,300 ft. altitude metropolis of over 3 million inhabitants. Our three tours and three special events, will visit the Gov't. buildings, Cathedrals, Museum of Anthropology, University City, Floating Gardens, Jai Ali Games, and many others.
